

Week of February 11, 2024

From Woody: The Super Bowl was really super yesterday with a very exciting overtime win for the Kansas City Chiefs. Sports can bring out the best in people but also the worst. Thanks to the advertising background of former NFL Commissioner Pete Rozell the Super Bowl has gained the stature of a national holiday. The money generated by television advertising is beyond imagination--30 second ads were somewhere around 7 million dollars. Sports betting companies poured millions into advertising and made millions more. There is nothing wrong with all of this as it does something important for our country....it brings people together. That is not easily done in the atmosphere of today's world. I think God is pleased when we all come together around something positive.

I want to thank all of you who are reading this for two other events that you helped make possible over the past few days. Our church was able to help one person pay their February rent. This person is only physically able to work part time and this was a tough time for her to make enough to pay for rent, heat, medical expenses and utilities. The other person is unable to work due to living in their car and not having an address. We helped pay her car repairs so that her car would pass inspection. It was, in a sense, making a mortgage payment for her. It is thanks to our Helping Hand Fund that we are able to do this part of the Lord's work and on behalf of those who receive needed help I say THANK YOU to all who are a part of our church family and whose gifts make our mission efforts possible.

Announcements

Thank you to all choir members who have participated in the Valentine Serenades. It is a big commitment, but so worth it. People have been touched and in some cases overwhelmed. It is a great outreach project, particularly in the cold, dark winter.

Thank you also to all those who helped with and attended the Family Bingo Night. It was very successful, with 21 people attending.

Artison Candies: Would you like to purchase these delicious candies? You are in luck. There are still boxes of candy left! The dark chocolates are filled with salted caramel and the milk chocolates are filled with chocolate ganache. There are 2 sizes of boxes: 6 chocolates for $12; 8 chocolates for $16. Heather and Rob Trzepacz, the talented chocolatiers, will be selling them after church on Sunday.
